Re-open Postoffice.
100,000th Passenger.
About Haiti.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE.
(Copyright, 1929, by King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

TWO things you should do as you mail Christmas cards and Christmas letters and packages.

Mail everything EARLY and help the postoffice, which is your property. Mail as many letters and cards as you can BY AIR MAIL, thus helping the cause of aviation, and showing your approval of the admirable work that the postoffice, under the president's direction does, building up our post-office air fleet.

THE Stout Air Service line, operating from Detroit, carried its hundred thousandth passenger today, and that passenger, very appropriately, was Gov. Green, of Michigan.

Stout Air Services have rendered good service to aviation, and Gov. Green, who was the one hundred thousandth passenger, is an excellent ambassador and has rendered good service to his state. This is a day to congratulate American aviation, the Stout Air Services, Incorporated, AND Gov. Green.

MR. HENRY NEIL writes, "I propose to pay you $30,000 if you will spend four weeks in Haiti and thoroughly investigate conditions there." It's an excellent offer, as Mr. Weber once said to Mr. Fields, but it is possible to write usefully about Haiti here in the United States, without charging Mr. Neil $30,000.

For instance, two important French newspapers saw that the League of Nations should look into the Haiti matter and tell the United States what to do about it. They think we are trying to rob those poor Haitians.

By and by, perhaps, when we get into the World Court, which is only the back door of the League of Nations, Europe will have a chance to give us instructions.

Meanwhile, we are doing our best to keep Haiti fit for the Haitians, such as they are. They are not yet civilized fully.

IT IS only 24 years since they murdered their own president in the public square, disemboweling him and cutting his body into four pieces. Some "educated" Haitian had probably read that "drawing and quartering" was the punishment for traitors.

The French locked up Toussaint L'Ouverture, who was the best man who ever ruled Haiti.

After that Jean Jacques Des-salines, colored, became governor, promptly massacring all the whites and crowning himself emperor. He was assassinated, because he was a little too tyrannical even for Haiti.

Next Henry Christophe established himself as "King Henry the First" and built his big castle and fort, still worth seeing, on top of a high mountain.

HAITI is a member of the League of Nations, if you please. When the United States went in 1915, everything in the Republic was going to decay. Irrigation projects, started under white rule, were abandoned, the islands production and foreign trade were dwindling, the courts were comically corrupt. Education had stopped, except for work done by French Catholic priests. Poverty and disease made things worse.

If the League of Nations believes that that situation can be met with kind words, let it go over and experiment.

President Hoover doubtless will be glad to give the League every opportunity, if it will take the responsibility and not disturb the Monroe Doctrine.

DO YOU drink? Probably not, but if you ever should, Dr. Gettler, official toxicologist, which means poison expert, of New York City, says you must be thoroughly oxidized, which means that you must get into your system much oxygen.

With little oxygen, a little alcohol intoxicates you. With a great deal of oxygen you can stand a great deal of alcohol—only you should never do that.

WEST VIRGINIA
GIRL MISSING
Ohio Newspapers are Asked to Search for Ina White, Aged 15.

By International News Service. POINT PLEASANT, W. Va., Dec. 12.—Mr. and Mrs. Daniel White today requested the aid of International News Service and Ohio newspapers in their search for their 15-year-old daughter, Ina, who has been missing since October 26.

The girl, according to the parents, has not been seen or heard from since. She is five feet tall, weighs 105 pounds, has black eyes, dark hair and a dark complexion. The address of the White family here is 416 Viand street.

REBEL FORCES DEFEATED NEAR GATES OF CITY

Thousands Reported Killed and Wounded in Battle.

5,000 CAPTURED

"Ironsides" Wing Walks Into Chiang Kai Shek Trap.

By ALFRED MEYER, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

SHANGHAI, Dec. 12.—Nationalist forces still held Canton today after defeating the rebels in what probably the heaviest battle of the present widespread rebellion against the government of General Chiang Kai Shek.

Thousands were reported killed and wounded on both sides in the battle which began Monday when the "Ironsides" wing of the rebel forces made a determined thrust at the Cantonese defenders which brought them within ten miles of Canton. Hastily summoned Nationalist reinforcements, however, turned the tide of the battle and the rebels were forced to retreat to some distance beyond Sunwai which is 19 miles from Canton.

Sanhsel is occupied. In retreating, it was reported they lost about 5,000 men in prisoners. The rebel defeat was attributed to a trap set by the Nationalists.

The "Ironsides" had been advancing from the north of Canton while the Kwangsi rebels advanced from the west. The Nationalist, by first retreating, drew the "Ironsides" far ahead of the Kwangsi troops and then threw their reinforcements into the resultant gap between the "Ironsides" and Kwangsi forces, thus partially encircling the former.

With Nationalist attention drawn to the "Ironsides," the Kwangsi forces meanwhile made a new encroachment toward Canton by occupying Sanhsel, according to reports from Wuchow.

Canton Residents in Panic. The proximity of the fighting threw many Canton residents into panic. As they saw the hospitals filling up with wounded and realized that the city might fall, many of them fled toward Hong Kong, remembering the looting and incendiarism which usually follows the fall of a Chinese city.

Nationalist forces also fared well farther north, decisively defeating the rebel forces which were threatening to sweep down the Yangtze valley from Chuchow to Nanking.

Internal conditions in the national capital, however, were reported to be unsettled, with disorderly elements taking advantage of the absence of many of the troops of the city's garrison at the front. Virtually all foreigners have been evacuated from Nanking.

Fire Over Heads of Mobs. Realization of the fact that the present rebel activities were something more than sporadic was brought home to the 60,000 foreigners living here when gendarmes protecting the international settlement were forced to fire over the heads of mobs of Chinese who tried to swarm across the boundary of the settlement from the Chapel district.

It was at first thought that the trouble was in the city had rebelled. Rumors that Communists were to storm the north railroad station in Chapel resulted in disruption of railway service yesterday.

SIX HOLDUPS IN COLUMBUS

With Renewed Vigor, Police Seek To Curb Epidemic of Robberies.

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 12.—(INS.)—With renewed vigor, police today sought to curb the hold-up epidemic here. Six holdups were staged last night, and five of them are believed to be the actions of two bandits. The two robbed a taxi driver of his automobile and then held up four filling stations within half an hour. Loot was small. There has been so many filling station robberies recently that attendants only keep small sums with them.

10 Shopping Days to Christmas!

Goes to Senate

Joseph R. Grundy, of Bristol, Pa., has been appointed to fill the post of junior United States senator from Pennsylvania, made vacant by the rejection of William S. Vare.

GRUNDY GETS W. S. VARE SEAT IN U. S. SENATE

"Uncle Joe" Makes Bow in Capital in New Role.

ACCEPTS PLACE Small Group, Headed By Nye, Plans Fight.

By International News Service. WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—Joseph R. Grundy, more familiarly known as "Uncle Joe," and a prominent figure in a score of tariff fights going back to the Dingoes bill of '97, made his bow to Washington today in a new role—that of senator-designate from Pennsylvania.

He was appointed to the vacancy which occurred through the senate's refusal to admit William S. Vare, and he not only accepted but announced that he would be a candidate to succeed himself next year for the regular term.

A sharp, but ineffectual attempt will be made by a small group of senators to keep Grundy out of the senate. Among the ring leaders of the small opposition group is Senator Gerald P. Nye (R.) of North Dakota, one of those states which the veteran tariff lobbyist pronounced "a backward state" in his appearance before the Caraway lobby committee.

The opposition may keep the Pennsylvania man from his seat for a few days, but the majority opinion on all sides is that the fight eventually will fail, and that the senate ultimately will seat Grundy by a top-heavy vote. It was estimated today that probably not more than a dozen votes will be cast against his being seated.

NEED MORE COTS IN RELIEF WORK

Salvation Army Workers Seek Equipment for City Hall Quarters.

Six more cots for the use of transients are needed for the bed rooms which are being maintained on the third floor of the city hall at Third and Market streets, through the efforts of the police, co-operating with the Salvation Army.

A second room, formerly used for the storing of health board supplies, was being cleaned today and made ready for the relief work.

A total of 42 men have been taken care of at the city hall quarters since it was opened seven days ago.

Quilts, comforts and other bedding are needed. Any person having cots or bed clothing which they are willing to donate are requested to communicate with Major Hughes at the Salvation Army city hall.

POTTERY OWNERS GET YULE SEALS

Mrs. Robert T. Hall Collects $64 For Messengers of Health.

Mrs. Robert T. Hall today reported having collected $64 from the sale of Christmas health seals to pottery owners.

Committee in charge of the post-office booth yesterday, Mrs. H. A. Moss, chairman, and Mrs. Will Kinney and Miss Nell Dawson, aides, collected $7.03.

EIGHT ENTER DECLAMATION MEET SUNDAY

County Prince of Peace Contest at Lisbon.

MEDAL OFFERED

Winner Will Seek Congressional Zone Honors.

Four boys and four girls will take part in the Prince of Peace declamation contest which will be held in the Lisbon Presbyterian church at 7:30 o'clock Sunday night under the auspices of the Columbiana county branch of the Ohio Council of Churches.

Seven of the eight contestants represent county churches, while the eighth has been entered as the representative of a high school. Lisbon is the only town having more than one representative.

The contestants are: Earl Cole, First Presbyterian church, East Liverpool; Miss Kathleen Cooper, First Presbyterian church, Wellsville; Lionel Smith, First Methodist Episcopal church, Salem; Miss Ruth Beard, Columbiana high school; William McBride, Leetonia Presbyterian church; Lena J. Bellhart, Washingtonville Methodist Episcopal church; Louise Ruffner, United Presbyterian church and Patton Moore, Christian church, Lisbon.

Winner, who will receive a silver medal, will represent the county in the Congressional district contest which will be held later. Winners in the latter will be awarded with a gold medal and will also go to Columbus to compete for one of the college scholarships and cash prizes offered by the Ohio Council of Churches.

Contestants in the county meeting will draw lots for the order in which they will appear. Names of the three judges will not be announced in advance.

Arrangements for the county contests are in charge of the Rev. F. C. Lake, pastor of the Lisbon Christian church.

ALLEGED GAS THIEF IS SHOT

Youth is Probably Fatally Wounded At Urbana.

By International News Service. URBANA, O., Dec. 12.—Frank Stevenson, 22, was shot and probably fatally wounded early today when he and a companion were interrupted in the alleged act of stealing gasoline from an automobile which was parked in front of the residence of Marshal Samuel Richeson at St. Clair, a small town west of here.

The noise which the two youth made awakened the marshal and he and a relative, Leslie Lykin, crept downstairs. Richeson was armed with a revolver and Lykin carried a shotgun.

They tried to the alleged robbers to surrender. Both, according to the report, started to flee. Lykin opened fire and a shot-gun charge tore away part of Stevenson's back and side. Stevenson's companion escaped.

The wounded youth was taken to the County hospital. Stevenson's companion, according to Marshal Richeson, is believed to be Fritz Barney, 22, formerly of Dayton.

FIRE STATION ROOF POURED

Contractors Rush Concrete Job on New Building in St. Clair Avenue.

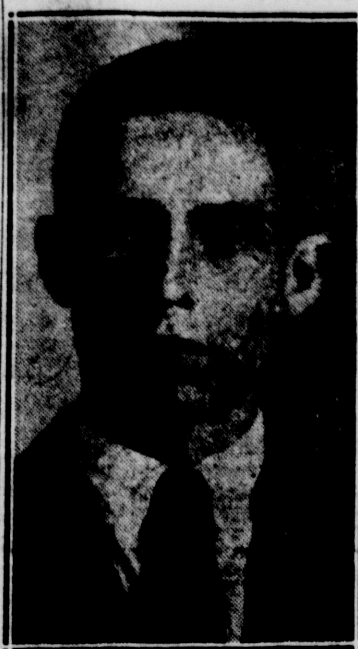

Pouring of the concrete roof for the new fire station, St. Clair avenue and Broadway, was started by the D. F. Nellis & Sons' company today. Two days will be required for the job.

A "built-up" composition of asphalt and paper will be supplied after the concrete has seasoned.

Veteran Printer Dies.

SPRINGFIELD, O., Dec. 12.—(INS.)—Simon E. Behrendt, who was a familiar figure in Springfield printing shops for 61 years and who was one of the founders of the local typographical union, is dead here today, having succumbed to a heart attack. Behrendt was 71 years of age and he was a "printer's devil" when only 10 years old.

In County Meet

Earl Cole, East Liverpool high school junior, will represent the First Presbyterian church in the Columbiana county Prince of Peace declamation contest to be held in the Lisbon Presbyterian church at 7:30 p. m. Sunday. Seven other contestants have entered.

$1,000 NEEDED IN FUND FOR YULE DINNERS

Salvation Army Reports Less Than $500 Raised.

GOAL IS $1,500

Baskets for 300 Families Will Be Distributed.

Less than $500 of the $1,500 required to finance Christmas dinners and other winter relief work of the Salvation Army has been collected. Field Major Joseph Hughes announced today.

Funds are being sought in street kettles and in a canvass of industrial plants. About 400 personal appeals to business men, manufacturers and other contributors to the Christmas fund have been mailed.

About 300 baskets will be distributed to needy families in the district. These baskets will go to Wellsville, Salineville, Irondale, New Cumberland, West Point, Smiths Ferry and Hookstown as well as the East Liverpool district.

Two women will investigate applications for relief. Baskets will be distributed at the Salvation Army citadel on the day before Christmas. Deliveries will be made to homes of those who are aged or who by reason of illness are unable to call at the citadel.

Kettles will be on the streets every shopping day until Christmas. One kettle will probably be sent to Wellsville for a day or two, Major Hughes said.

TWO FIRE CALLS IN 25 MINUTES

Chimney Blaze and Smoky Furnace Prompt Early Morning Runs.

Two fire alarms were received within 25 minutes by the fire department early this morning. There was no damage in either case.

The first call was a chimney fire at the home of Carl Irwin, 705 Bradshaw avenue, at 6:30 o'clock. The firemen had scarcely returned to the station house when a second alarm called them to the Richard L. Cawood company office building, 312 East Third street, where a smoking furnace was found.

FIRE DESTROYS CHARDON HOME

Damage of $50,000 When Flames Sweep County Residence of M. B. McLaughlin.

CHARDON, O., Dec. 12.—(INS.)—Fire, which is believed to have broken out from an overheated furnace, destroyed the country residence of Mason B. McLaughlin, well-known financier and former president of the White Motor Company, three miles from here, today.

Damages were estimated at more than $50,000.

McLaughlin, who escaped from the house through a window, said he believed the fire started from an overheated furnace.

NINE MEN DEAD, 12 INJURED IN PRISON RIOT

Fatalities at Auburn, N. Y., Expected to Reach 10.

REVOLT CRUSHED

Firearms Seized; Additional Guards On Duty.

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

AUBURN, N. Y., Dec. 12.—Extreme precautions to prevent a recurrence of the uprising in the Auburn state prison were taken by the authorities today, in the wake of yesterday's mutiny which cost nine lives and resulted in injuries to 12. While preparations were being made to bury the dead, all of the 1,556 convicts were locked in cells and all special privileges were suspended.

AUBURN, N. Y., Dec. 12.—Grim, brooding silence fell across battle-scarred Auburn prison today, following yesterday's bloody uprising during which nine were killed—eight convicts and the principal keeper, George A. Durnford—and 12 injured, one of whom was expected to die.

The revolt had been put down. Restrictions within the walls of the great oblong-shaped bastille which houses 1,556 prisoners were tightened. All the convicts and their cells had been thoroughly searched for firearms and weapons of all sorts. Additional emergency guards were on duty, patrolling the tiers of cells, and close watch was being maintained to quell any further incipient outbreaks.

Outside, before the walls of the gloomy granite structure built 112 years ago, a detachment of National guardsmen and state troopers patrolled all gates and entrances. The public was kept back of established military lines, hundreds of persons impelled by curiosity having rushed to Auburn by motor and train. The army of newspapermen on the ground were informed the prison authorities would confer with them at 10:30 this morning.

Among those in the Auburn City hospital were: Warden Edgar S. Jennings and several guards held with him as hostages during the six-hour battle yesterday during which hundreds of shots were exchanged between troops and convicts before the latter were finally subdued last evening by tear gas bombs and bullets.

LOS ANGELES Jail Plot Foiled.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 12.—Six desperate prisoners were held in solitary confinement today after a leaking water pipe betrayed a plot by which the men planned to fight their way out of the city jail here.

While investigating the leak accidentally caused in their cell by one of the prisoners, a guard discovered five murderous bludgeons fashioned from sashweights.

PUEBLO FEUD TOLL GROWING

Sam Solando is Slain By Assassins' Bullets.

By International News Service. PUEBLO, Colo., Dec. 12.—The feud that has held Pueblo and Southern Colorado in its grasp for many years today had added another death to its bloody list with the shooting in broad daylight of Sam Solando as he stood in front of a midtown poolroom. Solando died instantly.

The assassins threw away their guns and sped away in a heavily curtained automobile.

John Gorman, who was sitting inside the pool hall, was wounded in the chest by one of the bullets.

Police were without clues, but are certain the murder had its origin in the Mafia warfare that has taken at least eighteen lives in Pueblo and southern Colorado during the last eight years.

The murder of Solando was the first outbreak since Mary and Ralph Solando were "taken for a ride" last April, and died without telling who shot them.

Speaks At Dinner

Albert P. Morris, manager of the Columbiana County Motor club, pointed out advantages derived from tourists' trade in an address before the Lions' club last night in the Travelers' hotel.

SEEK TOURIST TRADE, MORRIS TELLS LIONS

County Motor Club Aide Points to Profits.

CITY FAVORED

County Roads Best in State, Guest Declares.

Albert E. Morris, secretary of the Columbiana County Automobile association, told of the possible profits East Liverpool could derive from tourist trade in an address at a Lions' club dinner in the Travelers' hotel last night.

After presenting a group of colored pictures, showing the old and new highways, he declared: "Columbiana county has the best system of roads in Ohio. And East Liverpool is in a position to benefit most because of it. Your city is situated on one of the first and greatest national highways and has other good roads leading to the neighboring cities."

"You are on the most direct route between Pittsburgh and Cleveland. The tourist is bound to come this way if you make the city attractive to him. It is estimated that the American tourist spends an average of six dollars each time he stops. Think what it would mean then if 100,000 tourists stopped here during the year. It is well worth working for. Make East Liverpool a place which the tourists enjoy coming to and you will be amply repaid."

Two committees were appointed. Play Clapsaddle, Dr. C. A. Shafer, L. M. Capehart, Wilbur Brooks and Harold Ward will be in charge of the Christmas program. Albert McLean, E. R. Campbell, Guy Emmert, Raymond Leonard and Earl Beeler, will raise funds for the erection of highway signs.

Standing committees for the year were also appointed. They are: Music, Earl Beeler and Harold Ward; inter-city relations, Wilbur Brooks; civic and industrial relations, Raymond Leonard; attendance, Earl Welch; membership, William Kline.

SIN DOES NOT PAY, SAYS PASTOR

Promise of Heaven Only Sure Comfort Declares Free Methodist Speaker.

"The saddest of all disappointments is the consequence of sin," the Rev. Oliver Atkinson, elder of the Rochester district of the Free Methodist church, declared in a sermon at the revival services in the Oakland Free Methodist church last night.

"The wages of sin is death," he said. "And the life of sin is one of continual disappointments. Our life is short, our earthly friends betray us and in the end we die the death of the soul."

"The separation of loved ones is a great blow. There will be weeping and gnashing of teeth when ye all see Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, and all prophets in the kingdom of God and ye yourselves thrust out." The realities of Christianity and the promise of heaven are the only sure comforts in this world of disappointments.

FALLING WALLS KILL FIREMEN IN TEXAS CITY

Taxicab Driver is Trapped in Blazing Room.

BUILDING RAZED

Origin of Flames in Wichita Falls is Unknown.

By International News Service. WICHITA FALLS, Texas, December 12.—Two men were crushed to death beneath falling walls, a third man was killed and nine persons were seriously injured today when fire destroyed the Antlers hotel, in the downtown district here.

The dead were Smiley Turner, assistant fire chief, and C. L. Anderson, fireman, and Toby Brice, a taxicab driver.

Brice, last seen at a window of the hotel, calling for help, was trapped in the building.

Former Hotel Destroyed. BARNESVILLE, O., Dec. 12.—(INS.)—Barnesville, Belmont and Cambridge fire departments rushed to Fairview, near here, today to extinguish a blaze which destroyed the Dunham Arnold home, a former hotel. Damage totaled $25,000. Several adjoining buildings were threatened.

TWO ARRESTED IN FATAL FIRE

"Excusable Manslaughter" Charged In Studio Blaze.

NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—(INS.)—Following hours of questioning by Police Commissioner Grover A. Whalen, John C. Flynn, vice-president of the Pathe Film company, and Henry Lalley, production manager, were arrested today on charges growing out of the destructive fire which swept the Pathe Manhattan film studio here, costing the lives of four girls and six men.

Flynn and Lalley were held as violators of section 1052 of the New York criminal code in which "excusable manslaughter" and culpable negligence are involved.

The police said between 50,000 and 100,000 feet of film was stored by the company in a room not fireproof, when under the law they were not allowed to keep more than 5,000 feet in such a room.

AL SMITH PLANS DIRIGIBLE MAST

Former Governor Asks Navy Aid On Empire State Building Tower Job.

By International News Service. NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—Former Governor Alfred E. Smith was to go to Washington today to ask Secretary of the Navy Adams for the help of navy engineers in the construction of a mooring mast and landing platform for trans-Atlantic dirigibles on the 1,100 foot tower of the Empire State building, now under construction here.

Thus the structure will not only be the tallest building in the world but the first equipped for a future age in transportation. The 200-foot mooring mast will give the structure an advantage of 300 feet over the Eiffel tower in Paris.

The former governor, now a director in Empire State, Inc., said the dirigibles would be warped to the mast by an electrical winch, much as an ocean liner is warped to its pier.

Thrilling Story of Romance of Modern Girl

A man was crawling up the cliff again when Anita recommenced that thin, shrill screaming . . . "Help . . . oh, help! . . . he tried to kill me . . . he threw me . . ."

The ranger half turned.

Jack began to shake violently, losing his hold on the hard, caltoused hand reaching up to him. "Hold on there—pull yourself together, man!"

But Jack couldn't stop shaking. Somehow the ranger made the ledge without his aid. "I tell you I'm innocent!" he shouted, in a rage because he couldn't stop that senseless shaking. "The woman is out of her head. I tell you. If you think—"

The ranger stooped to fasten a bootlace. "I'm not thinking, my friend," he said wearily. "I'm not the judge. But you better shut up. The less I know about this the better it's going to be for you. Now where's the—"

He was going to ask "Where's the rope?" But he never finished. Jack Beamer's fist found the point of his jaw. It was a blow that would have felled an ox. The ranger staggered backward. His clutching fingers fastened on a clump of grass. It did not hold.

This time Jack did not wait. Turning his back on his victims, he ran.

At four o'clock Slim Palmer, in charge of the horses at the lodge, began to worry about the Beamers. "Funny those folks, didn't come back."

All the other horses were in. No one else had stayed out in the storm. Palmer didn't like it. "Where'd they say they were going?" he questioned the boy who had started them off.

"They didn't say."

"How many times have I told you to ask everybody? Now how do I know where the dern fools went?"

Jack McKimmons, the ranger from Gales Flat who had stopped at the lodge for lunch, and to wait until the storm passed, grinned. "Oh, they'll turn up like all the rest. But I'll keep an eye out for them. I go through the canyon. I supposed you warned them to keep off the upper road?"

"Oh, sure. Warned everybody. Say, you don't think the storm . . ."

"Nuts! No body ever gets hit! Worse they'd get would be a good soaking. Well, so long Slim, I'll telephone you if I find the remains!"

"Durn the remains. Look out for my horses. He picked the two best I got!"

McKimmons rode out laughing. He was late, and his horse was reared. They made time galloping over the trails both knew so well. Before he had gone a mile he had completely forgotten Slim and his lost tourists.

In the canyon, beside a little bridge he had to cross he came upon the lifeless body of a heavy man. He lay with his face in the gravel, not five feet from his dead mount.

McKimmons gulped. Blood made him sick. But there was nothing to do but face it. He tied his snorting horse to a tree, and climbed over the bridge, and across the shallow clear little stream to the gravel bank where the man lay.

With an effort he turned over the heavy body. It was Slim's tourist all right. He must have gone right off the cliff on the horse. Funny place to go off . . . one stretch of decent trail on the high road . . .

Whistling to keep up his courage McKimmons felt in the pockets for identification. A pigskin wallet stuffed with bills bore inside the flap "John Herbert Beamer," in small gold letters.

"Well, I guess you've taken your last ride, young feller," McKimmons murmured. With all his heart he wished Decatur were with him. He didn't like handling things like this alone. He guessed he'd better leave everything as it was, and get on to the next telephone to report. He wouldn't do much looking for the other body (like as not the woman got into trouble to) without Decatur.

"Got along there?" He dug his heels into the horse's sides and galloped on down the trail. It was getting darker every moment. "Wish old Decatur was around!"

Roger was nearer than he knew. He lay in a little gully not far from the river, with columbine tangled in his yellow hair, and dust in his open mouth.

PHILIPPINE RELEASE LOOMS

Congress to Answer Isles' 20-year-old Prayer.

By WILLIAM S. NEAL,
International News Service Staff
Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—Legislation granting the 20-year-old prayer of the Philippine Islands for independence today had become a distinct possibility in the present session of congress as the result of a long and quiet campaign by American backers of the movement.

The legislation will originate in the senate early in the new year, with prospects the fight will be carried to the house in the spring according to present plans.

Senator Watson (R.) of Indiana, majority leader of the senate, predicted the legislation will not only consider the legislation after January 1, but added it would pass the senate.

With other powers in the senate rallying to the Watson conclusion, a movement has been launched in the south to organize a western-southern coalition for forcing the issue to a vote. The old "farm bloc," which proved its power in the house in the McNary-Haugen fight, may be organized again.

For Spending Jam-boree.

By Robert S. Thornburgh.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—Cash was moving out of treasury vaults today—into the public's pockets where it will pause just long enough to finance the annual Christmas spending jamboree, and to be transmuted into holiday cheer.

Experts said the increase in the volume of actual cash in use between the end of September and the night before Christmas was expected to be about $300,000,000 this year.

That would mean at the maximum circulation period of the year approximately $5,200,000,000 in "hard goods" would be in the hands of the public, or outside the banks. Circulation at the end of November was $4,829,500,000, or $40.95 per capita.

In connection with the Christmas present season the treasury will issue to the federal reserve banks for general distribution about $3,250,000 in "quarter-eagles" within a few days. The $2.50 gold pieces are

IVORY WARE HEADS LIST, POTTERS TOLD

White Loses Popularity, Art Committee Reports.

STYLES CHANGE
Many New Shapes and Decorations on Market.

White dinnerware, which a few years ago was "a thing of beauty and joy forever," has been supplanted by ivory lines and ware of many different shades, Thomas B. Anderson, chairman of the art and design committee of the United States Potters' association, said in his annual report delivered at the recent 1st convention in Cleveland.

"Our membership serves a diversified market," said Anderson. "What is art to one class in junk to another. We are in a period of transition in making style and utility features of our goods."

Anderson's report follows: "During the year coming to a close, many new shapes and decorations have been placed in the market for approval of pottery buyers of the United States."

"Some have proven quite successful, even with the apathy being shown in domestic lines at present. Others are painfully sinking into 'coma' or actual demise."

Weird and Uncanny Changes.
"For many generations potters have endeavored to produce a snow white body, covering it with a clear transparent glaze. But for the last few years, the complexion of our ware, if one may apply the term, has been undergoing all kinds of weird and uncanny changes."

"One is almost inclined to think that the Biblical drama of the confusion of tongues at the building of the Tower of Babel is being reenacted in the pottery trade."

"As one wanders through the glass warehouse of the average pottery today, the first may look upon a few bungs of old white ware, looking pale and wan, reminding him of the not distant past when pure white was a thing of beauty and joy forever."

Struggle to Keep Green.
"Next he sees the warm 'ivory' tint of the successor of the fickle fancy of yesterday. But her form and tender tones are overshadowed by 'higher yellor' in the next bin. This yellow may vary in shade and tone from 'golden maize,' 'sunset glo,' 'flame tint' to a yellow that the medical profession has usually diagnosed as a bad case of jaundice."

"And now, the rosy pink of youth: streaked and spotty, perhaps but bravely and jauntily exploring you to be kind in your criticism of her 'make-up.'"

"Next, maybe green, more or less variegated, like the colors of nature at springtime. A poetic soul, looking at it, feels like repeating those tender lines 'gentle spring in sunshine clad.'"

"Truth to tell the practical potter is struggling to keep green, green pink, pink, and mauve—but why go on? Nobody can pronounce mauve—mauve twice alike let alone get a dozen pieces of it the same shade from two consecutive kilns."

Trade Journals Praised.
"The craze for color is getting beneath the glaze. We now have 'umbertone,' 'at-glo rose,' 'peach-bio,' 'printemps' which we have heard is French for springtime. All these are colored bodies."

"We have purposely refrained from canvassing our membership on the subject of new shapes and designs for the very good reason that those bringing out new things are adverse to giving advance information concerning such activities."

"Suffice to say, in due time our most excellent trade journals will give this august body and the buying public, in picture and print, glowing propaganda calculated to revive our drooping spirits and fire our imagination to greater effort."

"Just here we want to offer our trade journals congratulations on their wonderfully improved appearance. Articles germane to pottery are well written, illustrations fine, and advertising of high order. We wish them great success as the years roll by."

Household Ware Trend.

"To treat art and design in an abstract way, just what is the trend of art and design in household wares in general and dinnerware in particular? To begin with, our membership serves a diversified market. What is 'art' to one class of purchaser is 'junk' to another."

"One must in the present day have a proper mental poise to be sure he is looking at table, not a newfangled animal cage, at a lamp and not merely a background for a figure of a nude female contortionist, a plate, not a reconstructed circular saw."

"We are in a period of transition in making style, and utility features of our goods. Each is trying his level best to design, not copy, study the market, produce ware, the best possible, and get a reasonable return for the effort."

"If we remember that pottery is primarily designed to purvey food, and kept practical, we will regain markets that have temporarily turned to glass, silver, puter and other material."

Advertising Suggested.
"We cannot let the opportunity pass without pointing out to you the importance of giving moral support to the efforts of Ohio State university to give our young men and women with artistic talent a chance to study ceramic art and design."

"State has, through its ceramic department, in the last 32 years turned out many graduates now occupying responsible positions in all lines of the clay industry."

"Now, the university has introduced a ceramic art course. Later, est yourselves in sending promising students to State, or other schools of this character."

"We are not going to get as far as we should in our conquest for the American market until we create greater interest in domestic wares. Advertising will help. But in addition, young thought and talent must be enlisted."

This Man Puzzled....Lost 19 Pounds of Fat in 22 Days

Wants to Know Where the Fat Went to

This man was fat—60 pounds overweight—wanted to stay home every night and nurse the old arm chair—getting in and out of his auto was all the exercise he cared for—his desire for any form of activity had died years ago.

Then one night as he read the evening paper cheering news broke for him—he read the story of Kruschen Salts—what it was doing for the fat folks of America—tens of thousands of them—they were losing fat—and plenty of it.

The next morning he started—one generous half teaspoon of Kruschen in a glass of hot water before breakfast—every morning the same—in a week he wanted to walk to business—he didn't know why—but the urge for activity seemed to flood his whole being and he followed the urge.

His wife was astonished—delighted—and when one evening he said with eagerness—"Let's go to a show tonight, dear,"—her joy was unbounded.

That virile Kruschen feeling that means more energy—more vigor—more ambition took possession of him—he took long walks every day—and enjoyed them.

He got on the scales one evening and came home with sprightly step—"eleven pounds of fat gone" he almost hollered—he danced a few steps with the activeness of youth—and his wife danced with him.

In 22 days 19 pounds of unneeded and unwanted fat had left him and he marveled—and his friends marveled with him.

"Where did it all go to?" he asked and no-one could answer. Kruschen Salts drives poisonous waste from the system—it acts on liver, kidneys and stomach and keeps them in tip-top condition—it keeps you feeling fit and fine all the time.

Carnahan Drug Co., and leading druggists America over sell Kruschen Salts for 85c a bottle which lasts 4 weeks.—Adv.

What The Vare Case Means

William S. Vare has lost his three-year fight to take the seat in the senate to which he was elected by the voters of Pennsylvania. Armed with unsalable credentials from his state and with a plurality of 200,000 votes, Mr. Vare was literally kicked off the front steps of the senate chamber.

What does it mean? In part a present decline in the political fortunes of William S. Vare and the operation for the third time in this decade of the senate's right to annul the constitutional rights of the states by prescribing extraconstitutional qualifications for senators. The two previous occurrences were in the case of Colonel Smith of Illinois, who was barred on January 20, 1927, and again on January 19, 1928, in spite of the fact that on each occasion he presented—as Mr. Vare did—credentials from his state.

Mr. Vare was duly elected. The senate conceded that fact by dismissing the contest for the seat brought by William B. Wilson, his Democratic opponent. The senate-elect possessed the nominal qualification named in the constitution. His theoretical title to admission was as good as that of any other senator. The charge which barred him was that an amount of money had been spent by him, or in his behalf, in the Pennsylvania state primary of 1928 equivalent to the sum necessary to purchase the office, as nearly as that elusive figure can be determined.

If such reasoning be accepted as sound, its application is apparently unlimited. The senate is not restricted in the interpretation of its self-made policy of arbitrary rejection. The only safeguard is the good judgment of the senators. The states are left unprotected, as Pennsylvania has been for two years and nine months, in their rights to equal representation.

Pennsylvania voters knew that Mr. Vare had spent three-quarters of a million dollars in his campaign and they, apparently, did not care. Therein lies the heart of the trouble. The action of the senate in reality amounts to an open rebuke of Pennsylvania's judgment. The fact that it is not legalized by constitutional statement takes away some of its power, but it removes none of its significance. The wiser course, under existing circumstances, would have been to have allowed Mr. Vare to take his seat and then to have proved the charges brought against him, which would have resulted in his expulsion. The senate, however, in its zeal, or rather the zeal of a few of its leaders, overstepped itself. The matter is made worse by the erratic manifestations of the zeal.

Mr. Vare spent too much money, but no more than others may have spent for the same purpose. The senate chose the wrong procedure in protecting itself. Both are results of a condition—lack of protection against ambitious office holders who assume that the end justifies the means. Censure should not be limited to the senate, or to Mr. Vare, but also should be directed at the system which made the whole drab affair possible.

Who Owns Antarctica?

The adventures of Commander Byrd and his hardy company in Antarctica have provided a wealth of very readable news, especially that concerning the flight over the South Pole and the American flag which was dropped there. Does the flag have any significance, other than a symbol of accomplishment? Who owns the South Pole?

Nobody owns the North Pole, although Peary, the American, was the first to reach it. Open, though none too navigable sea surrounds it. There is land at the South Pole, however, and Great Britain claims it. Action of this sort is an old British custom manifest in numerous instances.

Secretary of State Stimson has sent a note to Great Britain advising that the United States does not acquiesce in the British assertion of prior claim to ownership of whatever lands Commander Byrd might discover. Great Britain made this claim in a note to Washington more than a year ago and this is the answer.

Her claim is based on the fact that a British explorer reached the South Pole years ahead of Byrd, but a single incident of that nature does not determine the title to an entire continent. The extent and value of Byrd's explorations are factors that must be recognized—factors that will be recognized in the courts in due course of time, if it ever found necessary to take the matter that far. It may even turn out that there are two continents instead of one and in that case both claimants could be satisfied.

The thought of the temperature of Antarctica is a little depressing at the present time. There is no vegetation, and no life, except seabirds, fish and whales. Ice barriers shut off all the harbors. Yet beneath the vast ice sheet that covers the region there may be precious metals and coal deposits left there in some bygone period.

No one wants it very much, no warships would be needed to defend it, and there would be no expense of administration, at least for the present. In short, Antarctica looks like a good thing and Secretary Stimson and the state department have our good wishes for success in keeping it.

Battling The Lakes

Seamanship on the Great Lakes is seldom taken with the seriousness which it deserves. An important reason for this is the popularity of salt water fiction and the glamor which has surrounded the sea since men first started to use it for travel. The Great Lakes have received but little publicity of this nature. James Fenimore Cooper refers to them in his tales of pioneer adventure, but with characteristic disregard of detail his descriptions are notable only as imaginary wanderers.

There are a thousand miles of navigation between Duluth and Buffalo, supporting an immense tonnage, a great merchant marine, and vast shipbuilding and shipping interests. The economic importance of the Great Lakes is almost inestimable, yet because they are fresh water bodies, they have failed to stir the imagination. It is difficult to believe that it requires as much seamanship to handle the passenger boats and gondola-like freighters as it does to handle an ocean liner. In many cases, however, it is merely the difference between handling one kind of automobile and other under similar conditions.

Every year when the early winter gales sweep down from Canada over the Great Lakes the hardship and bitterness of service on the inland seas are demonstrated. One maritime epic after another is added to the long roll of lake history. Five men died recently in the freezing seas off Asa Sabie Point, on the southern shore of Lake Superior. Another crew was taken off a freighter piled up on the Duck Island reefs in Lake Ontario. The rescue called for all the courage and seamanship required on salt water, but details are scarce. Perhaps it is because such occurrences are too common.

The first ship ever to navigate the lakes—La Salle's forty-five ton Griffon—was lost with all hands in the autumn gale of 1679. The first steamer, the Walk-in-the-Water of 1818, which took thirteen days between Buffalo and Detroit, was piled up on the southern shore of Lake Erie, but all her people were saved. Crews of other ships have been less fortunate, many of them being lost within sight of shore after their ships became weighted down with ice and foundered or became unmanageable and broke up on the shore.

Many ships have been lost without trace. The Chicago, a passenger steamer from St. Joseph to Chicago, ascertained from a single oar that drifted ashore, both in the channels and the open lakes the perils of shipping on the Great Lakes are very real. The vast cargoes transported safely show the high quality of seamanship in the Great Lakes sailors.

Other Editorial Opinions

MRS. BARNES OF BOSTON.

The memory of voters is so comfortably short that it seems downright unkind of Mrs. Clarence A. Barnes, of Boston, to resurrect the Albany baseball pool and wave it in the face of former Governor, Banker, Smith. Yet a last laugh was plainly coming to the gentleman from Boston, and in view of the good job of housecleaning which he did in a strange city his insistence may be forgiven.

This thoroughly vicious and fraudulent gambling game was operated, huge and triumphant, in Albany, it will be recalled. It was entrenched and notorious. Governor Smith was so innocent, however, that he not only refused to believe that it existed, but slapped Mr. Barnes in the face, epistolarily speaking, when that volunteer from Massachusetts attempted to call his attention to the evil.

"Come and try to do something about it," was in effect the governor's taunt to Mr. Barnes' statement of the facts. Well, Mr. Barnes came and did do something about it. He found without difficulty and proved in the court the existence of something that every politician in Albany knew all about. He had the guilty sent to jail. No such a difficult task, you might think. But recall that the governor of the state sat with his arms folded; that the Democratic officials of Albany county could see nothing, and the job of housecleaning that Lawyer Barnes, of Boston did, deserves more than passing notice.

We are confident that the citizens of New York are grateful to Mr. Barnes and will be glad to give him his share of the credit—whether Mr. Smith can spare time from his banking activities to acknowledge his own error or not.—New York Herald Tribune.

A Modern Alcove

Modernistic furniture is not at all the hideous "junk" some people would have us believe. Instead, it is a refreshing departure from the furniture to which we have grown accustomed. Some rarely beautiful pieces are being made by manufacturers who are far-sighted enough to realize that it is not a passing fad, but an established fact. Witness the lovely alcove pictured here. Every bit of the furniture used is modernistic.

The walls of the room are in peach, while the woodwork on chair, table and couch are in dull black. The upholstery of the couch and chair is a silver gray mohair, while the table is painted yellow with a mirror top. The mirror above the couch is unframed and reflects the beauty of the scene. The rug of modernistic pattern is in black, silver, yellow and peach. Rather a harmonious atmosphere. I should say, and one full of solid comfort.

YOUR HEALTH

An Ounce of Prevention is Worth a Pound of Cure.

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland

In a sense, health is something that is acquired. Are you doing what you should to give yourself health, vigor and length of days?

A man's surroundings and daily walk have much to do with his length of days. They have much to do with his health, too. Even country life has its hazards. Rural dwellers, like the rest of mankind, are very likely to neglect their feet, their eyes and ears and fail to do many of the things which in the city are common practices. The city boards of health and other similar agencies are constantly teaching what to do for the improvement of health.

Strange as it may seem, the prospect of long life in the country is less than it is in the modern city. But of course you are not in a safe place merely because you live in a city. Health and long life are not bestowed upon men. They must be acquired by the observance of certain simple rules.

The rural dweller has to fight against certain conditions of his life. So, too, must the city dweller give attention to a number of things if he is to prosper physically. He must fight against certain tendencies which are truly urban.

To begin with, let us consider the question of transportation. The country man walks a lot. He knows why Nature gave him his feet. The city man rides too much. He does not have the refreshing, life-giving exercise essential to health and length of days.

I venture to say there are men in every city who take a taxi cab to cover the dozen blocks between the office and the club building. They are going to the club to exercise in the gymnasium, but they ride in a taxi cab rather than take the out-of-door exercise which the walk would give them.

After he has exercised at the club he orders a big meal or a generous lunch. There is danger in the fact that the food is so good. It leads to the temptation of over eating.

Over eating and under exercising are the faults of the city man. Every city dweller, and everybody in the world, for that matter, should bear in mind the importance of hygienic living. If we do this we should become conspicuous examples of a superior physical type. We can be that when we live as we should.

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

By O. O. McIntyre.

NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—A super myth has sprung up about the accidental rewards in writing advertising slogans. Since America became "slogan conscious" there is belief the veriest amateur can often think up an arresting line for some advertised product and immediately cruise to work in a yacht.

Thousands of letters pour into the advertising agencies daily from those who have just thought up a wow out of their own heads. Records show only one or two suggestions from outsiders have zinged the bell. Mostly it has been a waste of time.

A striking slogan proves an enormous business getter. A coffee that had only a desultory sale was hallooned into a "leader" three weeks after a catch line was broadcast from coast to coast. The enormous increase in cigarette consumption is created to brighten ballyhoo.

Yet most of these scintillating phrases have come from experienced advertising experts connected with big agencies. It is not one of those quick processes of sudden inspiration. A year's time was spent on one six word slogan that caught popular fancy.

Research workers delve into every phase of an establishment seeking to catch the eye with a brief sentence. It must tell all or there is a heavy business loss. Millions have been lost as well as won in slogan experimentation.

An advertising shark tells me the well turned line must attain the pinnacle of condensation. He points out that in many instances the innumerable voluminous reports are boiled down to a single syllable word. It is not a haphazard feat of a trigger mind.

New York has only three trained men who have mastered the art of sloganizing—that is their products have a greater percentage of successes than failures. They are paid salaries ranging from $25,000 to $50,000 a year and their entire time is devoted to the specialization.

One of the greatest slogans for sales power was encompassed in the line: "An apple a day keeps the doctor away." It had that quality providing a field for burlesquing on the stage and in comic weeklies. And that is a valuable quality, it seems. The best slogan recently I thing is: "Better"—tells it all!

A chorus girl was praising the intellectual qualities of one of her guild. "She can speak five languages," she said. "And she can't say 'No' in any one," sneered a sneering sister.

Apocryphal of nothing at all seems to me the most beautiful named spot in all America is the Shenandoah Valley.

The old clothes market survives on Baxter street in the East Side. Daily the eager merchants are on the sidewalk haggling with those who desire to sell and buy cast off garments. It is a seedy down-at-heel crew and yet many men have grown rich bartering in old clothes. They become the shrewdest of all traders.

Many of the flashy Broadway boys drop down to Baxter street to pick up bargains. Dishonest valets take loot here and often clothes made by expensive tailors may be salvaged out of the mountainous piles. There is a tailor on Tenth avenue who specializes in refurbishing such garments and fitting them to new owners with the latest cut and at a small price. Some of the swankiest dressers on the stage are outfitted in this manner.

Play Square.

Do you play square?

Honest and just in big matters, are you fair in little things?

Do you not shirk sometimes and make it necessary for others to do work that should rightfully be yours?

If you make a mistake or are in error do you keep still about it with the hope that it may not be discovered or another may get the blame?

Are you courageous enough to come forward and take the blame that belongs to you when you hear another censured for your mistake or your fault?

Instead of reasons for mistakes do you make excuses for yourself? In the place where you are employed there may be a hustler who is kind and helpful to you. Do you impose upon this person by seeking assistance when you yourself should make greater effort to accomplish what is expected?

Have you cultivated an ingratiating way in order to bait others to assist you? Do you not gain pleasure from your ability to make others feel like aiding you?

That sort of satisfaction proves you are a lazy shirker. Are you willing to be such a person?

Fire tragedies spring from common things . . . rubbish, the useless, the cast off, piled in some corner, overlooked, forgotten . . . spreading to the essential and the valuable!

Rubbish and litter—the results of careless "house-keeping"—furnish the kindling for many disastrous fires.

Guard every corner of your home, your factory, or your office; see that rubbish is cleared up, and no lurking places left for fire.

Cover your property with adequate insurance that will provide you with indemnity in case of fire. This agency of the Hartford Fire Insurance Company stands ready to safeguard you against every kind of financial loss.

Around the Corner

The nicest things in life seem always to be "just around the corner." Sometimes the road is long and straight before we come to the turn and we tire of seeing the same things day after day. But we plod purposefully along, ever filled with the hope of what lies around the bend. And, too, sometimes we never seem to get to the turn. That's when we get blue and discouraged and almost give up hope. But did you ever notice that it's the very things we least expect that change the whole course of our lives? Like the lady in distress whose playful puppy has entangled her in his lead and all her purchases go helter-skelter over the sidewalk. Then, from just around the corner, comes help in the shape of the nice young man who picks up her packages, wheedles pup from his romp—and another romance has gained a fair start. So don't ever get discouraged, for who knows what the next few seconds may hold?

EVERLYN LAYE, LIKE DRESDEN DOLL, IS BEAUTIFUL IN SONGBIRD ROLE

Portrays the Belle, the Middle-aged Beauty And the White-haired Woman.

By DAVID P. SENTNER
International News Service
Dramatic Editor.

NEW YORK.—Like the tinkle from a music-box of exquisite workmanship, "Bitter Sweet," romantic opera by Noel Coward, sings its sweet and bitter song of love and tragedy.

The production is composed of a series of lovely cameos on a musical necklace. It is decorative without too much glitter. It is beautiful without being garish as a whole or in each individual panel.

The author is a veritable octopus of talents. He wrote the book, the lyrics, composed the unforgettable music, staged the production and undoubtedly did a bit of incognito ushering.

Like a Dresden doll come to life, the dainty Evelyn Laye, English nightingale, portrays with equal enchantment the belle, the worldly middle-aged beauty and the white-haired woman with her romantic memories.

Sarah Millick (Evelyn Laye) a British debutante of the later 70's, elopes with her music master the night before her wedding to another.

In the gypsy arena of a Viennese cafe where she has become one of the dancing girls and where her husband is employed as orchestra leader, the romance comes to an operatic end.

A swashbuckling hussar kisses Sarah. Her gallant but foolish husband slaps the officer's cheek. A duel is fought and Sarah's lover is lanced like a salmon. If you permit a synthetic fisherman so to put it.

It is the stuff, perhaps, from which grand and great opera might be fashioned. But from this tragic point, the plot goes operetta and Sarah goes on living and singing of her love.

Noel Coward has succeeded in arranging clever and amusing group musical effects. He has a bridesmaid octet, a quartet of butlers, a women of the pavement trio and a "Green Carnation Boys" foursome.

All of which made me think of Gene O'Neill gone music master.

Florenz Ziegfeld and Arch Selwyn presented the production and should be proud of it. They shouldn't have much trouble picking up a few extra cash registers down in those excavations they used to call Wall Street broker age houses.

Advent of Talkies Hits French Actors

PARIS.—The talkies have made twelve thousand entertainers jobless, declared minister of labor, M. Loucheur, in a recent speech before the chamber of deputies. He added that hundreds of foreign musicians and actors, a large number of them Americans, were now employed in France in preference to French artists.

A thorough investigation of the situation is to be made with a view to limiting the entry of foreign performers.

Manchester Lassie Is Champion Typist

PARIS.—Meet the champion typist of Europe. It's a girl. Her name is Eleanor Mitchell, and she hails from Manchester, England. The title belongs to Miss Mitchell, because she won, for the sixth time, the annual all comers championship contest for stenographers just held here.

The titleholder proved that she was still the speediest and most accurate both in typing and in dictation. She rattled the keys of her instrument so fast that the bearings were in danger of melting. In dictation, she always kept up with the person dictating, and even had time to spare.

Seventy-two took part in the contest, in which a blind man was awarded a special prize for rapidity and accuracy.

Hurt in Accident, Gives Blood to Kin

BALTIMORE.—Although severely injured in the same automobile accident, Benjamin Frey, 23, submitted to a blood transfusion at a local hospital in an effort to save the life of his younger brother, Franklin Frey, 12.

Mice are being raised at Rayleigh, England, and sold to scientists for research and other purposes.

New York Schools' Cost Given Boost

ALBANY.—Education will cost New York state approximately $118,000,000 in 1930, an increase of about $25,000,000 over the present year.

The total cost of the state government 15 years ago was less than the cost of education for next year.

Indications are that the New York state government will cost the taxpayers about $325,000,000 for the next fiscal year, a jump of $50,000,000 over the last year.

New "Racket" Looms In Fox Farm Raid

MARLBORO, Mass. — A new "racket" made its appearance here—"hijacking" of silver foxes.

Six mature animals, their pelts worth from $1,500 to $2,000 each, were stolen from the Massachusetts Silver Fox Ranch on the Boston Post road here.

The valuable animals were killed in their pens, as blood was found on the floor, and traces of it were followed by police for a distance of two miles. The tire prints of two automobiles were found.

The silver foxes killed were the most valuable of the herd of 150 animals being raised by the fox ranches.

England has an average of 4,000 divorces a year.

No More "Picking" Of License Plates

ALBANY.—New York state motorists will no longer enjoy the privilege of selecting license numbers which "match" their age, telephone, street or lodge numbers.

"For the year 1930," Motor Vehicle Commissioner Charles A. Harnett said, "there will be issued no distinctive numbers of any kind, except between 1 and 100, and these will be reassigned to those who have had them in past years."

MISS WILMA MAY CLARK BECOMES BRIDE OF ORLIN D. MILLER

A PRETTY WEDDING took place Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Clark, McDonald street, when their daughter, Miss Wilma May Clark, became the bride of Orlin D. Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Miller of Maplewood. The Rev. Dr. J. H. Lawther, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, performed the ring ceremony in the presence of the immediate families.

The attendants were Miss Helen Miller, a sister of the bridegroom, who was gowned in tan georgette and velvet, and carried tea roses and baby-breath, and Ralph R. Clark, a brother of the bride.

Blue georgette and transparent velvet gown was worn by the bride who carried bride's roses and baby-breath. She has been employed at the D. M. Ogilvie & Company.

The bridegroom is employed by the Standard Oil company. A wedding dinner was served, covers being arranged for 20. A wedding cake, flowers, lighted candles and Christmas cards were used in the appointments.

BETWEEN YOU AND ME

BY JOAN.

It's so easy to buy the right thing for him at Frank Diamond's. They have such an extensive variety of men's shirts, sweaters, gloves, beautiful lounging robes (both flannel and quilted) and fancy pajamas. You may rest assured it is men's wear that has been chosen for it's appeal to men. You'll be impressed with their smart assortment of ties—many of them made of those non-crushable silk-crepes. Courteous salesmen will assist you in the blending of shirts, neckwear and kerchiefs, or any other accessories—a service that will insure good taste and perfect becomingness.

Haven't you pictures of your family, your friends, the places you visited on vacations, etc. And you wouldn't part with them for anything, would you? Well, I should say NOT! A Kodak then, really is a valuable possession. You probably have someone on your Christmas gift list who doesn't own one. They'd certainly appreciate one of those we saw at Carnahan's Sixth St. Store yesterday. This year's Kodak has many important improvements and comes in several pastel and modernistic colors with smart carrying cases to match. Brownies have a modern air that is sure to please the very young person—and there's the Vanity Kodak—ohh just Kodaks and Brownies galore—in many styles, colors and prices.

North Star—the most exquisite blankets you've ever seen! Their downy depth of pure wool gives a wealth of warmth and comfort and their colors like garden flowers, fit perfectly into any decorative color scheme. Our favorite is peach on one side and gold on the other—the deep satin binding matches each side exactly. There is no seam at the edges as the two-tone binding is interwoven—not sewed. There are other beautiful color-combinations, of course and even though you haven't the remotest intention of buying one for a gift (they'd make a perfect one) you'll find sheer delight in looking at them. Ogilvie's 2nd floor Annex.

No gift will be more welcomed in any home than the gift of a Frigidaire. It's time-saving, labor-saving qualities will make it a happy addition to any household and it will be enjoyed for many years to come. The Crockery City Ice & Products Co. are it's distributors.

How often does your grocer tell you, "Sorry, we are out of it?" or "We do not stock it?" Seldom, if ever, is a customer told these things at Mrs. F. E. McGart's grocery on St. Clair Ave. They aim to have everything you like and they keep their stock complete. And if it's a very special item—they'll even arrange to secure it for you. That's how accommodating they are! Next time you telephone an order—include the candied fruits for your Christmas fruit cake and candies and sometime when you decide suddenly you want some chicken sandwiches or salad ask them to send you some of their chicken (all white meat) packed in glass jars. You'll find it delicious—just one of the many good things that McGart grocery will gladly deliver to your home.

Perhaps you think you can't afford to put aside any of your salary but actually you can't afford NOT to. Even if it's only 25 or 50 cents a week, it means consistent financial progress instead of staying in the same old rut. Make up your mind today by enrolling in the Christmas Savings Club at The First National Bank. Get The First National habit. It's a mighty fine one to cultivate.

Folks, whatever you do—don't let the mild winter weather of the past few days make you think you can get along without a visit to Milliron's Grease Palace. Having your transmission and differential drained and re-filled with their high quality Motor Oil will fortify your engine against the wear and tear of cold weather driving. And the way folks are raving over the added starting power they get with a tankful of High-test Sohio Ethyl should make you anxious to try it.

"JUST SUPPOSE IT HAD BEEN EMPTY!"

An Ohio mother writes this: "I knew our bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar was getting low, but just supposed it was empty. I then replaced it. Then one night I awoke with a dreadful cough, and I fairly flew for one bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar. I am thankful to say the few remaining doses relieved him and he soon rested quietly. But, just suppose that bottle had been empty!" Reliable, and for these many years a standard family cough medicine of highest merit.

THREE SCRIBES LEAVE JAIL

Reporters Serve 40
Days of 45-day
Sentence.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—(INS)
—Three reporters for the Washington Times who chose to go to jail for contempt of court rather than reveal confidential information to a grand jury, were liberated yesterday after serving 40 days of a 45-day sentence. They received five days off for good behavior.

While they were behind the bars, three bills have been introduced in congress to curb the power of the judiciary to sentence for contempt in such cases and it is probable that favorable action will be taken at this session.

The reporters, Gorman Hendricks, Linton Burkett and Jack Nevin, Jr., were sent to jail at a direct result of an expose of the liquor traffic by their newspaper.
They were assigned to make an investigation of the capital's speak-easies, and the results thereof were incorporated in a series of articles.
Called before the grand jury, they declined to disclose the sources of their information and to become prosecuting witnesses against the places named in the expose. Justice Peyton Gordon then sentenced them for contempt.

Missionary society met this afternoon in the First Methodist Episcopal church. Mrs. E. L. Kreiser was in charge of the devotional period, while a study of "Crowded Ways," was led by Mrs. Ernest Tackett.

DOCTORS OPEN LABORATORY

Miss Mary Lapsley,
McAfee, Ky., Named Technician.

A modern laboratory for the convenience of East Liverpool physicians, surgeons and dentists, has been established in Room No. 307 in the Little building.

The laboratory, sponsored by Drs. J. A. Frazer, M. D. McCutcheon, Albert Michaels and H. A. Turk, will be in charge of Miss Mary Lapsley, McAfee, Ky., a graduate of the School of Laboratory Technique, University of Louisville, Ky.

Heretofore, a laboratory on a small scale has been maintained at the City hospital. Tests of a major importance have been made by the state board of health at Columbus. With few exceptions, such tests will now be made in the new laboratory.

Miss Lapsley was chief technician at the Christ hospital, Cincinnati, for 18 months. Previous to that she was the state board of health aide at Louisville, Ky. She has also had special work at the Women's and Children's hospital, Chicago.

KILLERS HIDE BODY OF MAN

Cleveland Sisters Find Victim in Home.

CLEVELAND, Dec. 12—(INS)—An autopsy was called today over the bruised and battered body of Kacie Schwartz, 70, which was found by two women stretched upon the floor of their living room when they returned home last night after an absence of less than an hour.

The dead man's body, strange to the women, was mysteriously placed in the home of Mrs. Mary Carnegie and her sister, Mrs. Louisa Byrnes, while they were gone to the corner drug store.

Police, who were called by the startled and frightened women, said the man had been dead for some time.

Schwartz, as he was later identified, had been missing since Monday morning when he left his home to deposit $30 in the bank, after which he told his wife, he was going to see his brother, Abraham Schwartz, a tailor. He failed to return home. It was learned at the bank, however, that Schwartz had deposited the money.

The body of the man as found in the home of the two sisters, showed numerous bruises. Police said his right temple was discolored from a blow and that there were evidences of violent bleeding from the mouth.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist (adv.)

GEORGE NICK WEEPS WHEN HE IS ARRAIGNED

"I Shot Him," He Tells Justice of Peace.

INQUEST HELD

Story of Intimacy With Mrs. Nick Repudiated.

Special To The Review.
LISBON, O., Dec. 12.—George Nick, 38, junk dealer, who is held at the county jail pending action of the grand jury on a charge of murder in the death of Christy Bazaras, is remorseful today.

When informed yesterday that Bazaras had died of two bullet wounds, Nick then broke down and wept.

"I shot him," Nick said when arraigned before Justice of the Peace M. K. Zimmerman, who held court in the office of the county jail. "It's too bad, it's too bad!" he exclaimed.

Nick declared soon after he shot Bazaras Tuesday afternoon that the latter had been intimate with Mrs. Bessie Nick, but when arraigned said that Bazaras had never been in his home. He said that his wife at intervals had inquired about the health of Bazaras who recently had suffered from a cold.

Nick resented this inquiry, and said that he told his wife "he's no brother or cousin and why should I ask how he is?"

It has since developed that when Nick first saw Bazaras the latter ran.

Coroner J. M. VanFossan of East Palestine conducted an inquest at the office of Prosecuting Attorney Banknecht Wednesday afternoon, but he rendered no verdict.

Funeral services Bazaras will be held in the Ellis funeral home 2 o'clock Friday afternoon.

COUNCIL ACTS

Ordinance on Building Permits Will be Voted.

Special To The Review.
MIDLAND, Pa., Dec. 12.—Solicitor Richard S. Holt was instructed by the borough council last night to prepare an ordinance compelling contractors to apply for a permit for each building to be erected. Penalty will be provided for failure to remove refuse left about the finished structure, and the repaving of the street when sewer connections are made will be mandatory. Fee will be determined by Building Inspector Richard Steebner and Solicitor Holt.

The borough will collect $100 each time the Midland volunteer fire department answers a call outside the borough limits for the use of the fire fighting equipment, under instructions given the secretary last night in billing the Standard Oil company for extinguishing the blaze last month on property east of Midland. The firemen submitted a statement for $33 for the men's services.

Ban Football in Park.
Council prohibited boys from playing football in the Lincoln park and ordered Chief of Police William M. Fox to enforce the ruling.

The law-makers passed a resolution prohibiting parking on the north side of Midland avenue between Thirteenth and Fourteenth streets. Workmen have been parking their automobiles at this spot and obstructing traffic en route to Beaver.

No Gas Tax Exemption.
Letter was received from the attorney general, advising the borough would no longer be allowed exemption of tax on gasoline bought for public service. The four-cent tax was voted paid by the councilmen.

All the school buildings in the Steel City are free from fire hazards, Edward J. Barrett, fire truck driver, reported.

25,000 GREET SANTA CLAUS IN COLUMBUS

Veteran Toy-maker in Igloo Near State-house.

HOPS IN PLANE

High Wind Blows Him
Across Scioto
River.

BY FRANK M. HAILAND,
International News Service Staff
Correspondent.

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 12.—Santa Claus took up residence in an igloo in the Statehouse yard today following his sensational arrival here before a crowd of approximately 25,000 persons here last night.

There was no snow on the ground so the veteran toy-maker was forced to leave his reindeer and sled in his barn at the North Pole and make the journey here by air.

His airplane arrived over the Statehouse dome, which was decked with lighted Christmas bulbs, about 6:10 last night and then jumped from his huge trimotored plane with a parachute.

Dummy in Parachute Jump.
A high wind blew Santa Claus across the Scioto river and over the West Side where he landed amid some light and telephone wires. A taxicab driver rescued the kindly old man and rushed him to the statehouse.

Great was the consternation among the children of the West Side. They thought that Santa might have been killed. That, indeed, would have been a terrible blow.

It was reported that Santa had decreed that a dummy should make the parachute jump and that a dummy made the spectacular performance. Such was really the case, but the thousands of children who crowded the statehouse yard and lawns where "keep off the grass" signs are posted, would not be convinced.

Display Features Arrival.
A brilliant aerial pyrotechnical display featured the arrival of Kris Kringle, as all the little Dutch boys and girls call Santa.

Governor Myers Y. Cooper greeted the distinguished visitor who is the proprietor of a great toy shop in the Arctic regions. He thanked Santa Claus for coming and extended his wishes that "all people of the commonwealth of Ohio enjoy a merry, merry Christmas."

It was the greatest community celebration ever held in Columbus. Young and old, alike, were present. Little girls and boys, wrapped warmly in bundling clothes, young flappers with their fur coats and thing stockings and high heels, little mothers with their blanket-wrapped infants, sedate young husbands, aged grandmothers and grandfathers were among the huge assembly.

The writer had the good fortune to stand near two little boys, who were twins. Both were dressed in aviator uniforms, with the leather breeches, shining boots, leather coat and helmet and they carried wanky little walking sticks.

The enjoyment which they obtained from the performance was great and it was well worth while to stage the celebration if only

EXONERATE MAN IN MINER DEATH

Cliff Nihizer, Logtown, Not Blamed
In Kallsreweki Case, Authorities Say.

LISBON, O., Dec. 12.—County authorities today exonerated Cliff Nihizer, miner of Logtown, of responsibility in the death of Ignatz Kallsreweki, 47, also a miner, who succumbed in the county infirmary last week.

Several weeks ago, it was shown in the testimony, Nihizer struck Kallsreweki on the head with a poker when he wandered into the former's bedroom.

Kallsreweki recovered and entered the infirmary.

Kallsreweki, physicians said, died of ear trouble.

those two little boys were there. "Santa Claus is really up there," remarked one when he saw the lighted plane drop flares.

The second nodded assent and mumbled, "I'm going to be good—until Christmas, anyhow."

Scarves with a hole in the middle for the head to be slipped through are being worn in Paris.

One housing project to be started in Edinburgh, Scotland, will cost $4,200,000.

OHIO MURDER CASE UNSOLVED

Ottawa Farmhand,
Who 'Confessed' Adjudged Insane.

By International News Service.
OTTAWA, O., Dec. 12.—With just 15 months elapsed since the slaying of Mrs. Mary Hemler, 20-year-old comely divorcee, the mystery of her murder at Gilboa, near here, was closed for a fourth time today when papers were prepared for the commitment of Silas P. Wagner, 55, a bachelor farmhand, to the Hancock county infirmary.

Wagner will be held in that institution until a place can be found for him at the Columbus state hospital for the insane, which is now overcrowded.

The man last week confessed to the murder of Mrs. Hemler, but his confession was later found to be the raving of a depraved mind. He was adjudged insane at a sanity test held before Judge William George in probate court here.

He first said he had confessed to the murder because a white-clad spirit of Mrs. Hemler appeared nightly at his bed side. He later denied that and slowly denied the contents of his confession, in which he said he had beaten Mrs. Hemler to death with a can of malt.

With Wagner's case disposed of, the murder mystery is no nearer to a solution than when Mrs. Hemler's half-clad and bruised body was found floating in the Blanchard river in the rear of her home at Gilboa. The case has been reopened three times, but all investigations have been fruitless.

CONGRESS DRY LEADERS IN ARMS

Resent Representative Schaefer's
Charges of Liquor Law Violations.

BY WILLIAM S. NEAL,
International News Service Staff
Correspondent.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—Congress was in the throes of a new and unusual row over prohibition today as the result of the announcement of Representative John S. Schaefer (R.) of Wisconsin that he will undertake to prove liquor law violations are rampant in the original dry states of the west and south.

Feeling that the reputations of their states for law enforcement are being assailed by the militant Wisconsin man, house dry leaders from the west and south flared back today and prepared to meet him on his own ground.

Schaefer declared that months of investigation has revealed that many of the so-called "dry states" are wetter than the so-called "wet states."

At the Cross-Roads of Health
SSS has meant a new day to many a person

A CLEAR SKIN comes from within

Lack of appetite, loss of strength, skin eruptions, that "tired feeling" and other human ills may be due to a lack of red-cells in your blood.

If you are tired—lack pep—if your skin is not clear—if your appetite is "gone"—you owe it to yourself and friends to try S.S.S.

"MY despair was so great I could have cried. The good cheer and merry happiness of others only mocked at my condition. I had begun to wonder why life could be so cruel. No appetite. No strength. Skin blemishes always embarrassed me. Aches and pains coursed through my body. I wanted to restore my health and live. What was I to do? ... happily the day came and I found the right road to health when a friend recommended S.S.S."

You may be one of the thousands with a low blood count—to this may be attributed "run-down" systems, skin troubles, and even more serious ailments.

Did you know that every cubic millimeter of the normal, healthy person's blood should contain about 5,000,000 red corpuscles? They are the tiny red particles which give blood its color and are carriers of nourishment to the cells of the body. Rich, red blood wards off disease. It is very dangerous to let the blood count remain below normal.

With an increase in the red-blood-cells you will be on the right road to health. This is Nature's way to body power and to clear skin. Naturally, with your strength restored, it is easier to fight disease and infection; to enjoy your food and to sleep soundly. When firm flesh takes the place of that which was once flabby, you will feel strong—your nerves will become steady—more happiness and friends will follow.

ZOOK'S PASSERS AWAIT BETHANY INVASION

Potter, Salem Reserves Will Battle In Prelim

Three East Liverpool squads open court campaign tomorrow night; Girls To Play Quaker Maids.

THREE East Liverpool high school basketball squads will swing into action tomorrow night on two courts in the Blue and White's opening games of the 1929-30 campaign with the Potters battling Ronald Crawford's Bethany high quint in the feature engagement here.

While Ceramic City cage followers will get their first glimpse of the Zook combine, as well as the Reserves, they will have to wait until later for a peep at Miss Miller's girls' squad which will assist in scholastic lid-lifting ceremonies at Salem.

High Lassies Face Bright Cage Season

Six Letter Winners Return From Last Year's Squad.

With six letter winners of last year's squad back, fortified by additional candidates who, in fact, will provide the veterans with developed competitors for varsity games, Miss Iva Miller, beginning her third year as coach of the Blue and White lassies, faces more encouragement this fall than at any time during her basketball leadership here.

The Potter lassies have been working diligently the last several weeks in preparation for their opening game of the season tomorrow night on the Salem court and Miss Miller will be extremely disappointed if her team doesn't show plenty of class, although realizing that stern competition can be expected from the Quaker maids.

From all indications, Miss Miller will use the following sextet as starters against the Red and Black: Kathryn Steffan, Ruth Cooper and Ruth Mackey, forwards; Lois Cunningham, Kathryn Moon and Martha Williams, guards.

All of this group are seniors with the exception of Miss Mackey. June Johnson and Eliza Townley returned from last year's team. Also, Ora Lee Pack, a new candidate, has been performing in great style during drill sessions and probably will get plenty of opportunities to perform with the team.

BUCKEYES DOWN CENTRAL QUINT

P. Smith Rolls up 27 Points As Team Wins, 79 to 3.

Buckeyes defeated the Central school quintet, 79 to 3, Tuesday night on the Methodist Church court.

P. Smith led the Buckeyes scoring attack with 27 points. Brant, Wells, Craig and Smith shared in honors also.

A field goal by Boals and a foul by Mackey were the only points garnered by the Centrals.

The Buckeyes are looking for games. Paul Smith, telephone 2432-J, is manager.

CAGE TICKETS ARE PLENTIFUL

"Plenty of good reserved seats left!"

That's the announcement of Faculty Manager J. M. Decker as high school cagers prepare for their clash tomorrow night with Bethany high school here.

Installation of bleacher seats from Patterson Field has increased the reserved seat capacity to 345. All downstairs seats were reserved, according to new plans in effect this season. The balcony seats will go at general admission rates.

All remaining reserved seat tickets were placed on sale this afternoon at the R. G. Brian store, East Fifth street. Purchasers, thereby are permitted their choice from the full selection.

SHIRES TO BOX 222-POUND FOE

CHICAGO, Dec. 12.—Great alarm was expressed today by veteran pugilists when it was learned that G. Arthur Shires, White Sox first baseman, is to follow up his successful ring debut Monday night in a battle with George Trafion, 222-pound center for the Chicago Bears.

The ranks of the initiated cauliflowerers are seething with indignation following Shires' popular appearance against Mysterious Dan Daily last Monday night in which "the great" Shires dispatched Mysterious Dan in 21 seconds.

Some have been suggested taking action against the interlopers. Red Grange, "Burrhead" manager, arranged the bout for the White City arena where 5,000 fans gathered the other evening to see Shires in action.

BOWLING COLUMN

Kommel's Lunch quint sank a couple more notches into the cellar after dropping two out of three games to the Millions Tuesday night in the Liberty duckpin circuit. Greene shot a 220 for high single game. Lafferty's 507 was high for the series.

CHESTER OPENS BILL SATURDAY

West Virginians invade Ambridge for inaugural battle.

Special To The Review.

CHESTER, W. Va., Dec. 12.—Chester high school basketball team is holding daily practice sessions in preparation for its opening game with Ambridge, Pa., high school, at Ambridge Saturday night.

The varsity that is working out at present lines up with Gibbs and Brown on forwards, Davis on center and Werkeiser and Milby on the guards. Prospects for a successful season are brighter today with the return of Milby, star foot ball player, who has been on the injured list for the last few weeks.

The girls' basketball team will open their schedule here next Friday night in a preliminary game to the Chester high school Weirton high school boys' game playing the Weirton high school girls.

HAWKEYES BOW TO CONFERENCE

Iowa University Cleans House, Banning 22 Athletic Luminaries.

IOWA CITY, Iowa, Dec. 12.—Iowa university's intention of seeking re-admission in the Western conference was regarded as a certainty today after the athletic board of control last night banned 22 athletes from further intercollegiate competition.

Complete capitulation to the demands of Big Ten members is seen in the board's action. The action was announced following a session which lasted from early afternoon until midnight and came as a complete surprise here. Resignation was expected instead.

Alumni, students and faculty have been in a state of upset ever since the faculty committee of the Western conference denied Iowa's plea for readmission last Saturday at Chicago.

The 22 athletes banned are believed to be those who benefited by the "baiting loan fund" that was made the chief point of attack by the faculty committee last Saturday. It was on this point that the Iowa delegates failed to agree with the faculty committee Saturday.

Names of only five of the 22 athletes barred were made public. They include Oran Pape, football star of Dubuque, Iowa; Mike Parrish, halfback last night was elected co-captain of the Iowa basketball team; Irving Nelson, football star of Omaha, Neb.; Richard Affre, halfback and basketball player of Quincy, Ill.; and Steward Leeka, football player of Independence, Mo.

Old Alex Returns To Phils

Browns Trade Schang To Macks for Hale.

By DAVIS J. WALSH.
International News Service Sports Editor.

NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—Twilight is the hour of peace and great content and, in the twilight of his career, Grover Cleveland Alexander, with his face of mahogany and a heart of sturdy oak, is going home—not to die, we hope, but to live happily ever after. All of which is ardent sentimentality and baseball has all the sentiment of the average fishmonger, a fact which it proceeded to endorse yesterday only a few hours after Alexander was traded back to the Phillies by the St. Louis Cardinals. The news was hardly cold when the rival Philadelphia club announced that it had arranged a trade whereby another old favorite, Wallie Schang, was returned to the home of his father.

Thus, the barter in human souls went forward behind the scenes of baseball's annual meetings, a frank exhibition of commercial rivalry that had sentiment as its professed intent but showmanship as its object. Those Philadelphia clubs are professional vendettists, in spite of the fact that one is a world's champion and the other a second vision outfit; so when one of them decided to take a filler in sentimentalism—coupled with sound economic reasoning—the other was glad that it found itself with a chance to play the game the same way.

Accepts Fate's Bidding.

However, I prefer to think of old Alex, not as a mute, passive pawn that has been shunted about in a game in which he holds no cards, but as a man who accepts the bidding of fate gladly.

An imposing figure of a man, this. All of 43 years of age, he had lived his second generation on the parade of young and old has passed before his tired old eye—onward into the outer darkness of baseball's forgotten.

Yes, he has seen them come and go, this fellow, and his time to follow is near. The mere fact that he was a figure in the deal served to give the Phillies the break in the transaction, in the opinion of those who patiently outwaited the joint meeting of the two majors today.

The deal sent Alexander and Catcher Harry McCurdy to the Phillies, with Outfielder Homer Peel and Pitcher Bob McGraw going to the Cardinals. Oddly enough, Peel and McGraw were with the Cardinals before, just as Alexander spent some of the greatest years of his life with the Phillies, between 1911 and 1917, while Schang never was so good again as he was in 1913, his first year with the Athletics.

Browns Set for Season.

Schang's transfer from the St. Louis Browns to the Athletics yesterday was made possible when Sam Hale, third baseman, was offered in exchange. Since the Browns simply can't start this year without an adequate third baseman and the Athletics already are set with Cochran and Perkins, it was reckoned that the Browns finished a winner on the business.

They needed Hale more than the Athletics needed Schang, even the body being in agreement on this point, with one exception. The latter happened to be Connie Mack. He had to have a third catcher and felt that he couldn't have gone far wrong in getting a man who might be the first catcher on several other clubs.

As for Alexander, the man whose private life is said to have been anathema to the exhorters and up lifters, he will break the Phillies on the right side of the deal if he wins more than a half dozen games and he ought to do that with his eyes shut. As a matter of innuendo, his eyes are supposed to be that way half of the time, anyhow.

They needed a catcher to replace Lorian, who was killed some months ago. They got him in McCurdy. They needed a wise, old pitcher to win those ball games that the Phils seem to lose after entering the ninth inning five runs in front. I don't need to add that they got what they needed here, too.

STEELERS' FIVE TO OPEN DEC. 27

Youngstown East Has Few Letters From Last Season.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Dec. 12.—East high cagers are hard at work under the direction of Charlie Mitchell, with Mike Reese, of Grove City and Carlson, of Wisconsin, lending a hand in coaching the Blue and Gold squad.

East opens the season against a picked Alumni five Dec. 27 at the school gym, and Mitchell is anxious to have his charges in the best possible shape for the engagement.

Although he has only one or two letters on the roster, Mitchell is well pleased with the pep and form the Blue and Gold youths are showing. Players who stand out so far are Rango and Laskin, guards; Santor and MacVitch, forwards; and Jaffe, center.

The may prove the regular line-up, although others who are trying hard are Ellice, Parrara, Viccarel, Marion Honey, Iman, Martin, Moore, Dwyer, Pettit and Rizak.

Midland High Grid Squad Rolls Up 214 Points In Nine Games

Second row—High, Yurich, Lockwood, Needs, Longfellow, Milkovitch, Green, Mills, Radecivic, C. Spesak.

Third row—W. P. Lemond (coach), Revetta, Tontl, Karas, Shenault, McKinnon, Amico, Neville, Daugherty, Bream, W. A. Wuschinski, faculty manager.

The Midland high school football team pictured above, captured third place ranking in the Beaver county high school championship race this season and finished as the highest scoring combine in the circuit.

The Steelers amassed a total of 214 points in nine games against their opponents' 57. W. Spesak, veteran halfback, carried off individual laurels in county gridiron circles by registering 13 touchdowns and six extra points, leading his closest rival by six points.

Zori who has also been bothered by an ailing ankle was out last night after several days of rest. Reducha's form and judgment is much better than anything he displayed last season as a substitute and he seems destined to land a varsity berth.

Bell and Stern are almost sure bets for their positions which leaves the other spot open to either Burgwin or Robinson. The latter right now has a little edge but it promises to develop into a real battle right down to the first game before either is given the edge.

MAJOR LEAGUES GO INTO HUDDLE

Early Closing, Radio, Lively Ball And Freak Homers to be Discussed.

By International News Service.
NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—Early closing, the radio, the lively ball and the zoning of parks to limit the number of freak home runs were to come up for discussion today at the joint meetings of the National and American baseball leagues.

Before the double session there will be another special meeting called by Commissioner Kenesaw Mountain Landis for the purpose of taking another try at the somewhat muddled situation of the Brooklyn club.

Establishing the early date for closing is an assured fact. Both leagues are in favor of it, and the schedule committee has already planned to end the season during the last week in September.

The radio situation is likely to end with the clubs being told to exercise their own judgment in whether or not the non-attending public shall know what's going on in the park.

Whether or not the major parks will be zoned remains to be seen. St. Louis set a style that cramped the activities of home run clouters considerably when they screened the right field pavilion down to the deep center field zones. It met with general approval.

It was easily master of the third team in scrimmage. The first teamers had possession of the ball practically the entire route and they worked some snappy scoring plays off the new formation which Coach Cartledge has introduced.

Pete Tepsic was especially brilliant and from the way he has been going he seems destined to be in for a big season. Pete is handling the ball neatly, his cutting shows more timing and his pointing is the best of the squad.

Will Robinson and Pete Reducha are also coming along fine though Pete is hampered by a bad ankle.

CHRYSLER'S BIGGEST VALUE

TODAY'S Chrysler "66"—the lowest-priced six ever to bear the Chrysler name—is in every way the biggest value ever offered by Chrysler.

It gives you Chrysler beauty, Chrysler luxury—and Chrysler performance! Here is high-compression power from any gasoline. Here is a superb engine with 7-bearing crankshaft and Iso-therm Invar Strut pistons; with impulse neutralizer and with positive fuel pump, instead of a vacuum tank. Rubber engine mountings are another Chrysler advantage.

Here is the safety of weather-proof internal-expanding four-wheel hydraulic brakes. Here are remarkable riding qualities secured through a perfectly-balanced chassis and extra-long springs—and a new type of rubber-core spring shackle, noiseless as well as resilient, and never in need of lubrication. Just ask your nearest Chrysler dealer for a demonstration.

Rogers Newell's Opener

Lorah's Squad, However, Lacks Playing Floor.

With the opening game of the season but a week away, Coach Nate Lorah of Newell high school is confronted with the problem of finding a place to stage the battle in which the Rogers high school quint will provide the opposition.

While several sites are tentatively in view, the Newell school authorities have been unable to act definitely.

Lorah has six back from last year's squad, of whom two are letter men, Smith and Laneve. The others include Manson, Severs, Burson and Kaufman.

Coach Lorah has lined up the following cage program:

Dec. 20—Rogers at Newell.
Dec. 21—Newell at Bridgeport.
Jan. 4—Newell at East Liverpool, Reserves.

Jan. 10—Newell at Sallenville.
Jan. 11—Newell at Chester.

ALL-AMERICANS AT GRID FETE

Amos, Henry Here Tonight;
Coach Layden Unable to Speak.

Special To The Review.
CHESTER, W. Va., Dec. 12.—Announcement was made today by Purple and Gold club officers that Elmer Layden, scheduled to speak at the banquet to be given tonight in the Masonic temple to members of the Chester high school football team, will be unable to attend the affair because of increasing duties at Duquesne university.

At the same time, however, the club announced that Bill Amos, All-American fullback in 1927 and now head coach at Washington and Jefferson college, and William Henry, line coach at the same institution, and another All-American player, have accepted an invitation to speak.

Captain of the 1930 gridiron team of Chester high school will be named at the banquet. Candidates for the place are Elmer Milby, star end of the team who was named on the all-district team, Robert Thomas, Thomas Abrams, Charles Kell and Robert Caughey, star half back on this year's eleven.

Motion pictures of the Chester-East Liverpool and the Chester-New Cumberland high schools games will be exhibited during the entertainment.

R. A. Douglass will serve in the capacity of toastmaster.

Inheritance Taxes Hit New High Mark

HARTFORD.—Inheritance taxes paid to the state of Connecticut in the year ending June 30, last, made a new high record when they totaled $3,598,333. Ten estates paid a tax of $1,137,278. The smallest estate paid a tax of 33 cents to the state, and the largest paid $225,794. Canada paid taxes on 12 estates, England 6 and Germany 2. There were similar payments from Bermuda, Chili, Denmark, France, Italy and Spain, and one payment from Philippines.

Road-making machinery was recently introduced into Honduras when small one-ton trucks were used on a highway.

DOCTOR'S TIP ENDS COLD CAUGHT IN OFFICE DRAFT

Quick, Tempting Way to Stop
Head Cold, Cough, Chest Cold
Now Used By Many Here

Numbers of East Liverpool people have found that colds can be ended quickly—often in a few hours—by a method that is temptingly pleasant to use. And doctors have certified this as the best of different widely used methods tested for head colds, coughs and chest colds—even in extreme hospital cases.

Mrs. Leland E. Marston, for example, was treated for a severe head and chest cold caught while working for hours in a "drafty" office. Just a few pleasant doses of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, her doctor reports, gave surprisingly quick relief. By night she had overcome the disagreeable "weezy" stage of her cold and in the morning her fever was gone. Examination next day showed that this hospital certified medication had removed all trace of the cold.

Cases reported daily in this paper are all certified by the attending physician. They show that Ayer's Pectoral is ideal for home use among adults and children. That's why leading East Liverpool druggists guarantee quick, sure relief or prompt refund of the small cost.
